Austrian And Czechoslovakian Troops Move To Border

CENSORSHIP PLACED ON DISPATCHES

Reports of Restoration of Throne in Austria is Cause of War Activity

NAZIS ARE MOBILIZING

Three Nations Warn Against Attempt to Put Archduke Otto in as King

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

VIENNA, Feb. 27.—(UP)—(By Telephone to Berlin)—Heavy troop movements along both sides of the Czechoslovakian frontier coincided today with sudden imposition of a censorship of all messages.

The censorship resulted in elimination from dispatches of any reference either to the troop movements or to reports that Archduke Otto of Hungary or some other Hapsburg might be made king of Austria.

Governments of Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia have announced that they would regard any such restoration of the Hapsburgs as a cause for war.

Travelers from Czechoslovakia reported great military activity along the Czechoslovakian side of the border, and that 2000 heavily armed members of the Schutzbund, the auxiliary mobile police force, were sent to the Austrian side, in addition to troops.

These men are part of the troops sent during the week end to the German frontier to guard against a possible incursion of 10,000 armed Austrian Nazis reported to have massed for a thrust at Vienna.

It was possible that the Czechoslovakian troop movements were a precaution against any such expedition.

The borders of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Germany meet at the point where the Nazis were reported massed. Nazis, knowing that the Austrian border might be heavily guarded, might thrust across a corner of Czechoslovakia almost directly toward Vienna.

But, it was known also that Czechoslovakia, freed from the Hapsburg Austro-Hungarian empire when it was split up after the World war, had threatened to invade Austria if an effort were made to put young Archduke Otto, now studying at Louvain, Belgium, on the throne of either Austria or Hungary.

I. C. C. FOR LOWER RATES FOR AUTOS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(UP)—An interstate commerce commission examiner recommended today that the I. C. C. lower freight rates on passenger automobiles shipped on transcontinental railroads from Detroit and California manufacturing points to California ports to meet competition with shipments through the Panama canal.

The examiner, J. Edgar Smith, however, opposed any reduction in truck rates. Under the proposed rates, passenger automobiles would be shipped to the west coast cheaper than to intermediate points.

The cities to which the reduced rates would apply include San Francisco, San Diego, Oakland, Los Angeles, San Pedro and Wilmington, Calif.

PU VI BECOMES NEW EMPEROR ON WEDNESDAY

Manchukuo Decorated for Coronation Ceremonies in New Empire

HANKING, Feb. 28.—(UP)—(Wednesday)—The city of Hanking, at the moment the world's most crowded capital, is wreathed today in banners and smiles and beset with noise for tomorrow Manchukuo, loneliest child of the family of nations, becomes an empire.

Regent Pu Yi, tenderly reared like the orchid he has chosen for the empire's flower, will ascend the throne of his forebears, hard-muscled fighting Manchu banner-men.

At 8 a.m. tomorrow the youthful, slender regent who but a few years ago put away his toy soldiers to take a wife who now becomes an empress, was to perform ancient rights on the new altar of heaven, receive a seal of authority from heaven, and thereafter sit among sovereigns.

This new altar of heaven, a temporary replica of the famous stone altar in Peking, stands in Shuntien square in the heart of the capital. The square which is

DANISH MOTORSHIP REPORTS DISTRESS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—(UP)—The Danish motorship, Stensby, en route from Seattle to San Pedro, flashed distress signals at 9:30 a. m. today, Mackay Radio reported.

Exact location of the ship, which carried a crew of 35 to 40 men, was not learned, Mackay Radio said. It was believed the craft was somewhere off the Southern California coast, possibly near Point Arguello.

Communication with the Stensby was disrupted before completion of the distress message, Mackay said.

COMMUNISTS FREED IN REICHSTAG CASE

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Three Bulgarian communists, acquitted December 23 of complicity in the Reichstag burning and since held by secret police, were freed today, it was announced officially.

The Bulgarians were said to have been sent by airplane to Moscow. They were made citizens of Russia a few days ago. They are Georg Dimitroff, leader of the Bulgarian Communist party; Wassil Taneff and Blagod Popoff.

Score Killed When Storm Sweeps East

Cold Wave Extends as Far South as Georgia Causing Great Suffering

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—(UP)—Upwards of a score of persons lost their lives as a result of storms which have ravaged the eastern United States during the past 38 hours.

Eight perished in New York City alone in accidents directly attributed today to the arctic weather.

Ten or more were killed in a train wreck outside Pittsburgh. First investigation indicated freezing temperatures had caused a split switch.

Arctic blasts followed one of the most severe snow storms visited upon the eastern seaboard in many years.

A cold wave extended as far south as Georgia, intensifying suffering and impeding efforts to clear highways of snowdrifts that isolated many small communities.

In New York City 48,000 men and 4000 trucks fought the snow. A biting wind, which at times attained a velocity of 35 miles an hour, piled snow in drifts in outlying sections as fast as plows cleared it away. Suburban transportation systems, disrupted by the storm at the height of the evening rush hour yesterday, expected to provide nearly normal service today. Special crews worked furiously throughout the night clearing tracks. Thousands of commuters, either unable to get home last night or tired of waiting for trains, spent the night in hotels.

In Connecticut, which bore the brunt of last week's gripping storm, schools were closed. Bus and trolley service throughout the state was disrupted.

Several small communities in Connecticut, eastern Massachusetts, northern New York, Long Island and New Jersey were cut off by drifts. Many of the snow-bound villages were reported to be running short of fuel, food and milk supplies.

UNTERMYER URGES FEDERAL BANKING

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 27.—(UP)—Substitution of government banking for the present banking system as a means of ending the reign of the "money trust" in politics was advocated here last night in an address by Samuel Untermyer, New York attorney and noted liberal leader.

"The guarantee of bank deposits is a weak and faltering step in that direction," he said. "The postal banks furnish an admirable basis for another. The branches need only to be multiplied. The centralization of the federal reserve system into a central bank would be the fountain head."

That is the most effective way to break the power of the money trust that thrives on the use of the people's money in the banks."

RESCUE REPORTED NEAR MOSCOW, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Rescue of the 72 men, women and children marooned on Arctic ice off the Siberian coast seemed nearer today with predictions of better weather.

Storm prevented airplanes from going to the rescue but meteorological stations predicted today that favorable weather was near.

Two airplanes are waiting to fly out on the ice and the steamship Smolensk is preparing to leave Vladivostok with 19 rescue airplanes.

Late News Flashes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(UP)—The senate today approved, 45 to 39, a proposal by Senator William E. Borah, Repn., Idaho, for continuation of the 15 per cent pay cut for all government officers earning $6000 or more a year.

HUGE SALARIES AND BONUSES PAID BIG BUSINESS MEN OF NATION REVEALED IN REPORT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(UP)—The Federal Trade commission in a report to the senate revealed a partial list of the salaries and bonuses paid big business men, having reported widespread defiance by large companies.

According to the commission nineteen companies refused to disclose their salary lists. Four others denied the power of the commission which acted on a senate resolution directing the commission to furnish the salaries of executive officers and directors of corporations having capital or assets of more than one million dollars which are engaged in interstate traffic.

Following are some of the big salaries and bonuses: Eugene R. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel, received a bonus of $1,823,753 and a $12,000 salary in 1929. In 1932 he received a salary of $133,000, but no bonus.

Charles M. Schwab, chairman, got $150,000 and no bonus in 1929, and still without a bonus in 1932, he received a salary of $250,000.

George W. Hill, president of the American Tobacco Company, got a $144,900 salary, plus $461,113 as a bonus in 1929, and in 1932 received $120,000 as salary and $705,607 as a bonus.

Lamont Dupont, president of E. I. Dupont de Nemours, received $99,999 as salary in 1929, with a $600 bonus. In 1932 his salary had been reduced to $84,750 and he received $240 bonus.

R. W. Woodruff, president of Coca Cola company, received $100,000 salary in 1929 with $60,000 bonus. In 1932 he got $120,000 salary but no bonus.

K. R. Kingsbury, president of Standard Oil of California, got $100,000 in 1929 and $150,000 in 1932, but no bonus on either case.

Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, received a salary of $109,361. In 1932 his salary was increased to $192,578 and his bonus was $4625.

Harvey S. Firestone had his salary reduced from $100,000 with no bonus in 1929 to $64,800 in 1932, likewise with no bonus.

Nicholas M. Schenck, movie magnate and president of Loew's, Inc., received $92,000 salary plus

SOLONS ATTACK TEN KILLED IN RECEIVERSHIPS PENNSYLVANIA IN CALIFORNIA R. R. DISASTER

Special Senate Committee Reports Operations in State Inefficient

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Inefficient operation of receiverships on the part of the state of California was charged in a report made public today by the special senate committee investigating bankruptcy and the receivership proceedings in United States courts.

The report, submitted by Sen. Henry F. Ashurst, Dem., Arizona, chairman of the committee, declared certain bankruptcy laws of the state are being "completely ignored."

The committee has been investigating such proceedings since October, 1933, examining 379 equity receiverships.

The California law provides that a building and loan association in the event of insolvency, shall be liquidated under the direction of the state building and loan commissioner, whose deputies are not to receive in excess of $3 per day. The law also provides the attorney general of the state shall render all the legal services required without any compensation other than his regular salary.

Register To Have Access To Figures

State Director Instructs Local Director to Make Records Available

ORANGE COUNTY CWA payroll records will be made available to the public immediately.

Following refusal Saturday of County Director Robert W. Ramsey to permit The Register to have access to the CWA records in order that the facts might be known and certain rumors verified or disproved, The Register appealed to State CWA Director Edward Macaulay, with the result that word was received from Macaulay today advising that he had instructed Ramsey to furnish such information as desired and to cooperate in every possible way.

Consequently The Register now has access to the records and from time to time will print items of interest to the public. Figures used yesterday and in this story today were obtained despite the ban against opening the local records to the public.

Ramsey Refuses

Following Ramsey's refusal Saturday to permit access to the payroll records, at which time he said, "Don't ask me why," The Register sent the following wire to Macaulay:

"Register been refused by local director access to records of moneys paid out under CWA. Appealed to John B. Elliott of Los Angeles as I knew he was obtaining such facts. He advised me to ask you for authority to see the books. Will you authorize your director to do so, as I understand it is a matter of public record and there is tremendous interest in it. Will appreciate immediate action. Understand Hopkins, federal CWA director, ruled all records were available to public."

Macaulay's answer, which was received yesterday, follows: "If you will inform me what specific information you desire from payroll I will be glad to furnish it. Stop. While such information is of course public property and therefore available for any justified purpose the documents are under my charge and I am responsible for them."

The Register then sent the following wire to Macaulay: "I do not desire the documents. I would not dream of taking them from your files. As an editor and publisher I desire to learn the

RUSSIAN PRINCESS OPENS FILM FIGHT

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Eighty-two-year-old Justice Horace Abery began hearing today the suit of a Russian princess who charged she was libelled by being portrayed in an American motion picture based on the life of Rasputin, the mad Russian monk.

The suit was that of Princess Irina Alexandrovna, niece of the murdered Czar Nicholas II and wife of Prince Yussouff, who killed Rasputin. She sued the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Motion Picture company.

The princess charged that in the film she was portrayed as Princess Natasha, who was represented as being seduced by Rasputin and becoming his mistress.

ALPINISTS FORCED DOWN BY BLIZZARD

YOSEMITE, Cal., Feb. 27.—(UP)—Lofty Mount Lyell, highest of the Sierra peaks in Yosemite park, stood defiant and unconquered today, snowstorms having forced back the four daring Alpinists who had sought to make the first winter ascent of the snow-crowned mountain.

The climbers who left here Friday reached a height of 12,400 feet, within 700 feet of their goal, when a 60-mile-an-hour blizzard halted their ascent, they revealed on their return last night.

PRESIDENT OF OBERLIN FOR 25 YEARS DIES

Dr. Henry Churchill King, One of Nation's Greatest Educators Passes

OBERLIN, O., Feb. 27.—(UP)—Dr. Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin college for 25 years and one of the nation's best known educators, died at his home here today. He was 75.

He had been in ill health since 1927 when he retired from the presidency of the college. Death was caused by paralysis.

Dr. King was one of America's eminent scholars. He was author of the number of books and president of several religious and educational associations.

Degrees had been conferred upon him by Oberlin, Western Reserve, Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Chicago, Illinois and Colgate universities. He was given the Chevalier Legion of Honor medal by France in 1926 for his work in the Y. M. C. A. during the World war.

He was a trustee of the Carnegie Foundation and president of the Religious Education association, the Association of American Colleges, and American Missionary association.

As a lad, King came to Oberlin in 1877 from Hillsdale, O., and entered the college as a sophomore. His scholarship ability was immediately recognized and upon graduation in 1879 he was given a position as instructor.

He received his master's degree from Harvard in 1883, then returned to Oberlin as a professor, specializing in philosophy and theology. From 1892 to 1898 he was college registrar and in 1901 was made dean. Upon the death of John Henry Burrows in 1902, Dr. King was elected president, and held that position continuously until 1927.

He was succeeded in the presidency by Dr. Ernest Hatch Wilkins. Dr. King leaves his widow, Julia, and three sons, Philip, president of Washburn college, Topeka; Donald, of Boston, and Edgar, of Chicago.

Will Keep Hands Off In Primaries

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(UP)—The Democratic National committee will maintain a hands off policy in the coming congressional state and municipal primary campaigns. Postmaster General James A. Farley said today.

Farley said in a brief statement: "In view of the approaching primaries in many states it is only fair that it should be understood that the Democratic National committee is not taking part either for or against any Democratic candidate in congressional, state or municipal campaigns."

AMENDMENT IS PASSED IN SENATE

Administration Suffers Another Defeat; No Record Vote Taken by Solons

BONUS TO GET VETO

President Informs Speaker of House He Will Veto Any Cash Bonus Bills

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(UP)—The administration suffered another defeat on veterans' legislation today when the Senate adopted an amendment incorporating the principal demands of the American Legion for increased benefits to World war veterans.

No record vote was taken. The action was on an amendment offered by Senators Frederick Steiwer, Repn., Ore., and Pat McCarran, Dem., Nev. It was estimated it would add about $55,000,000 to veterans' benefits for the next year.

The Steiwer-McCarran amendment for World war veterans provided for:

1—Re-establishment of broken service connection for presumptive disability cases, restoring some 29,000 veterans to the compensation rolls.

2—Restoration of the former rate of compensation for direct service-connected cases, with a maximum of $100 a month.

No Protest Made

Administration forces made no protest and did not even ask for a roll-call. The Steiwer-McCarran combination yesterday obtained approval of increasing Spanish War veterans' compensation by some $60,000,000.

The Senate was in a hurrying mood and quickly adopted two other amendments:

1—Restoration of full benefits for blind veterans. This was offered by Sen. P. L. Goldborough, Repn. Md.

2—Mandatory hospitalization for veterans, requiring the use of 7,000 hospital beds made vacant by the provision of the economy act of last year.

As the situation stood after the swift developments of late yesterday and today, the American Legion had gained practically all of its program. To this has been added the liberalized Spanish War benefits.

President Warns

President Roosevelt today cleared up misunderstandings as to his attitude on the soldiers' bonus bill, by informing Speaker of the House Henry T. Rainey bluntly that he would veto any such legislation at this time.

Last week Rainey announced that the President would "not approve" such legislation.

Bonus advocates then claimed the President would permit a bonus bill to become law without his signing it.

Rainey today made public the following letter from the President clearing up his stand:

"Dear Henry:

"Mac (Secretary Marvin McInture) has shown me your letter of February twenty-first. Naturally when I suggested to you that I could not approve the bill for the payment of the bonus certificates I did not mean that I might let it become law without my signature. I don't do things that way. What I meant was that I would veto the bill, and I don't care who you tell this to.

"Let me know your thought on the next step.

BOARD BACKS OLIVE-ORANGE HIGHWAY ROUTE

Representatives of the Glassell Street and Grand Avenue Improvement Association of Orange appeared before the board of supervisors this morning and requested the board's co-operation in the project to straighten the state highway from Olive to Orange. This co-operation was assured by the supervisors who said that a right-of-way man would be sent to contact property owners along the route of the proposed improvement. The board also agreed to assist in presenting the matter to the state highway commission together with a request that the work be done at an early date. According to the request submitted this morning members of the improvement association have already secured signatures to a petition showing that property owners along the route of the proposed improvement were almost unanimous in their approval of the project.

It is proposed to straighten the route which already is a secondary state highway so that it will parallel the Santa Fe tracks from a point below Olive to the intersection of Taft and Glassell streets.

BURGLAR FOUND GUILTY ON TWO CHARGES TODAY

Waldemar Miller, "hatchet burglar" who looted two Santa Ana homes on January 12, was found guilty on two counts of second degree burglary yesterday by Superior Judge Edward Henderson, of Ventura, who is sitting in Department one, superior court. Miller was sentenced by Judge Henderson to serve in Folsom the term prescribed by law for each count of second degree burglary, which is from one to 10 years, two sentences to run consecutively. Miller admitted on the stand yesterday that he already has served one term in Folsom having been sent there from Riverside county in 1925 following conviction on a charge of burglary. He also admitted a previous conviction in Minnesota.

When Miller was arrested in Glendale, according to testimony given during the trial he had in his possession articles stolen from the homes of County Auditor W. T. Lambert and Herbert R. Green.

Following the verdict of the court Lois Preston, attorney for Miller and Miller both waived time for pronouncement of judgment on the statement that the convicted man was not eligible to parole because of his past convictions.

MAN FREED, HELD ON SECOND COUNT

K. Endo, Stanton farmer, had assault with deadly weapon charges dismissed in justice court today but was held on second count when both he and the complaining witness were cited to appear in the Fullerton justice court on charges of disturbing the peace.

An alleged fight occurred on February 23, in which Endo is said to have cut Harry Akiyama of Stanton with a knife. Endo was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Earl Nickles for assault with a deadly weapon. Judge Kenneth Morrison, on the advice of Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe, dismissed Endo's charges and sent both men to Fullerton to be tried before Judge Halsey I. Spence. It was brought out in testimony that both men had been drinking sake, a liquor made from rice.

WILLIAM L. CAREY DIES AT HIS HOME

Mr. Carey suffered a stroke several months ago and has had an extended illness. He is well known in Santa Ana and was formerly in the building trade here. He is survived by one son, George Carey, Anaheim; three brothers, George Carey, Santa Ana; John Carey, Denver, Colo.; and Thomas B. Carey, Kingston, Penna. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the Harrell and Brown funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street.

Bernase Hill, 10-year-old son of Mrs. Loy Hill, Costa Mesa, suffered a broken collar bone yesterday while playing on the bars at school. He was taken to the Orange County hospital for treatment.

RULE HUNTINGTON BEACH OUT OF OIL SUITS; SURVEY SHOWS WELL DRIFT UNDER TIDELANDS

The city of Huntington Beach yesterday was ruled out of litigation between the state and operators of the Wilshire Oil company leases and those of the Termo Oil company over the alleged whipstock drilling of wells to tap oil pools under the tidelands at Huntington Beach.

The city lost its chance to carry on the battle when Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine of San Diego, who is occupying superior court bench here for the trial, strike from the files of the two cases, the entry of defaults and judgments against the state.

The ruling left the case, according to Attorney L. W. Blodgett and George Bush, special attorneys for the city of Huntington Beach, in a paradoxical situation, the state having been first ruled out when the court sustained a general demurrer of the city, without leave to amend the state's complaint. Yesterday's ruling puts the city out of the litigation and leaves the state in. Blodgett and Bush argued to the court yesterday that the ruling on the general demurrer had the effect of deciding the case on its merits and holding that the state had no cause of action; therefore the state could not proceed further, with such motions as those pending before the court. Judge Turrentine, however, disagreed with this position, and granted the motion striking the judgment against the state.

City Filed Judgment
The city had caused this judgment to be entered after the state defaulted in answering the city's amended cross-complaint. The state ignored the amended cross-complaint, holding that the original cross-complaint had been dismissed before the amended cross-complaint was filed. The court so held in making its decision and further held that after February 5, when the original cross-complaints were dismissed, the city had no further authority to file documents.

Though that an appeal would be taken from the court's ruling, was expressed by Blodgett and Bush. They said that an appeal would not obtain a final determination of the issues which is what the city desires, but would only settle questions of procedure.

Such decision, they said is hardly considered as much worth-while as the city is still vitally interested in the whipstock litigation as a participant through the Milroy Oil company case, scheduled for trial tomorrow. In this case Blodgett and Bush will appear as attorneys for the city and on behalf of property owners named defendants in the suit. They said that the issues that would have been tried in the name of the city in the Wilshire and Termo company cases, involved in yesterday's motion, will be tried out in the name of the Milroy property owners.

According to Blodgett and Bush the city cannot be ruled out of the Milroy case through technicalities used in the other cases by the state. The city purchased a small land interest in the Milroy holdings involved in the litigation.

Result Survey Result
In the case of the others, the court Charles heard evidence from Alexander Anderson, of Fullerton, regarding a survey of the Laughlin No. 2 well at Huntington Beach, which Anderson made for the state, using a mechanical apparatus that is lowered into the well, an account being kept of its "direction of orientation" as it proceeded downward. The instrument also records the inclination and direction of the well by photographic exposures at periodic intervals.

The record thus made of the Laughlin well, introduced into court yesterday, showed that the well had drifted or slanted 92.5 feet from a vertical position in a depth of 311.5 feet. The hole had been drilled well into the state tidelands, Alexander declared.

Hearing of the Camp case was not completed and all other state injunction suits were continued to March 26.

ROMAN TO LECTURE ON BRIAND TONIGHT

Dr. Frederic W. Roman is lecturing tonight at the Temple theater at 7:30 on "The Last Great Speech of Aristide Briand."

In this famous speech according to Dr. Roman, the prime minister dealt with the problems of the French debts to foreign nations, the future of the league of nations and the French attitude toward the world. Briand also accorded a high place in the world of oratory and government, having been prime minister for 13 times, 40 years in the French Chamber and 10 years as minister of Foreign Affairs. Dr. Roman considers the French leader one of the most outstanding characters in the world for peace and the League of Nations. A current events discussion and open forum discussion will be held in addition to the lecture. The public is invited.

OUTLINE FOUR LAGUNA BEACH SCHOOL PLANS

Four plans for the establishment of a four-year high school will be presented to the people of Laguna Beach following a conference next Saturday with Andrew P. Hill Jr., former state architect, now with a Los Angeles firm of architects, who is assisting the board of education of Laguna Beach in preparing them. Hill met with the Laguna board for four hours Monday and presented his outlines of the plans after a survey of conditions. On Saturday the method of presenting the matter to the people will be decided.

Plan No. 1 calls for the use of the present grammar school plant for both high and elementary school purposes. According to Hill, only a few minor changes would be required, but the plan would allow for no increase in enrollment and it was his opinion that the state requirements would not be met as it would be necessary to use the space under the stage in the auditorium for one of the classrooms.

Plan No. 2 includes the purchase of six acres of land adjoining the school property to the south and the construction of a few temporary buildings for use of both the high and grammar schools. The cost of the property is estimated at $13,000 and, if graded, would require an additional expenditure of $12,000.

Plan No. 3 proposes the building of grammar schools in Arch Beach and McKnight's Addition and use of the present grammar school plant for a high school exclusively. The plan includes the purchase of the six acres of land mentioned in the second plan but the grading would be required. The state minimum for high school plants is 15 acres but Hill is of the opinion, he told the board, that it might be possible to get by with the fraction more than 12 acres that the new purchase would make. The estimated costs of this plan is $193,000, including the additional land and grading. Because of the contour of the land and the high cost of earthquake-proof construction under the law the cost of building in Laguna Beach would be very heavy, Hill pointed out.

The fourth plan submitted by Hill included the purchase of an entirely new high school site and the use of the grammar school as it is. The plan recommends the buying of sites at this time for future grammar schools in Arch Beach and McKnight's addition.

Amend Ordinance On Water Rates For City Schools

First reading was given by the city council last night to an ordinance amending the present city water ordinance and stipulating that the board of education shall purchase water for school purposes at cost.

Several months ago, it was agreed that the water rates for school purposes should be raised to cost. Several deficiencies in the original ordinance were found and the new statute was introduced by City Attorney Clyde Downing to clear up vague points and make it definite as to the new rate.

The matter was referred back to Downing and will be given second reading and probable adoption next week.

COUNCIL NOTES

ADMINISTRATION PLANNING EMPLOYMENT PROJECTS TO TAKE PLACE OF CIVIL WORKS

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Register Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Civil works may be doomed, but something else will take its place.

Increasing evidence of Roosevelt's determination to abolish that spectacular work-relief plan is bringing in a large crop of new proposals, designed to absorb portions of the 4,000,000 CWA has been employing.

Many private interests with axes to grind are exerting pressure. Some of them seem to think an administration that would adopt the civil works plan would try anything.

Proposals range in merit all the way down to that of the gent who wants Secretary Ickes or Harry Hopkins to put hundreds of thousands to work at selling his patent hair restorer.

One of the plans most seriously considered calls for a billion-dollar corporation to promote a general program involving loans to home owners, home building, renovation, and slum clearance. Local capital would be attracted and used along with government funds, under this plan.

Contractors, insurance companies, some home loan corporations and President Harriman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce are behind it. Director Frank C. Walker of the National Emergency Council, Roosevelt's boss correlator of federal activities, is interested. A mammoth highway program of building, repair, and maintenance also is being considered. It's likely that Roosevelt eventually will decide on a public works expansion, with emphasis on highways and housing and some modification of the civil works plan.

School Board Head Asks City Aid In Obtaining Funds

Moral support of the city council in securing CWA funds for the necessary work in fixing up the old school buildings to house the junior college when it moves, was asked last night by President George Wells of the school board.

Wells, appearing informally at the council meeting, said that CWA officials were being asked to assist in the work of renovating the former Willard Junior High school building, on North Main street, the old school building on Church street at the rear of the Baptist church and several small bungalows which will be moved from the high school campus. He said that reconstruction work at the high school will make it necessary for the jayees to move while the work is in progress.

He stressed the fact that the taxpayers will be saved money by the use of the vacant school buildings by the junior college, and will be given the advantage of speedy work if the CWA project is approved.

Members of the council assured the school board head that they would be glad to assist in the movement and would be favorable to the CWA work.

LEGION PLANS MIDGET AUTO RACES AT BOWL

Willing to add another sport to the large number that have been carried on in the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl, the city council last night virtually agreed to a proposition from the American Legion to have midget auto races as a weekly sport attraction in the Bowl.

Commander Charles Swanner of Santa Ana Post 131 appeared before the council and pointed out the advantages of midget auto racing as a means of securing revenue and advertising the city. He emphasized that the noise from the races would be far less than from motorcycle races, since the small cars have mufflers and only attain a speed of from 35 to 40 miles per hour.

The Legion will give the city 10 per cent of the gross receipts for rental on the Bowl, and will guarantee to replace the turf and repair any damage to the Bowl. The circular track will necessitate the removal of the turf for 25 feet on each side and on the corners of the present football field. This will not interfere with night baseball, since the track is not banked and will be level with the turf, it is said.

Swanner announced that the races would be staged on Saturday nights, under present plans.

The sport has met with great approval in Los Angeles and it is planned to form an association of tracks throughout Southern California. There is not the element of danger with the small cars, sponsors of the races point out, yet there is the glamor of auto racing.

George Kellogg of the local post has been active on the committee to secure the sport for Santa Ana. He and Swanner will confer with a council committee consisting of William Penn, E. G. Warner and City Auditor Lloyd Banks, which was given power to investigate and act by Mayor Paul Witmer. There was no indication of disapproval from the council at the meeting.

M'GRAW RITES TO BE SIMPLE LEADER LAUDED

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, was expected to arrive today from Miami, to attend the funeral tomorrow of John J. McGraw, whom he succeeded at the Giants' helm.

Terry will be one of many notable at the requiem high mass in St. Patrick's cathedral.

The list of honorary pallbearers includes all officials of the Giants except Secretary Jim Tierney, who is with the battermen in Miami. Others on the list are Wilbert Robinson, former manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers; George M. Coahan, famous song-writing actor; Will Rogers, De Wolf Hopper, John McCormack, Tim Mara and Sam Harris.

The Rev. Vincent De Paul Mulry of Pelham, who will officiate at the services, said they would be as simple as possible, at Mrs. McGraw's request. He said there would be no eulogy.

Messages of condolence continued to arrive at the McGraw home in Pelham Manor.

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The brief words of Carl Hubbell couched in baseball language, it seems to me, composed the finest eulogy of John J. McGraw.

The gangling Oklahoman, who, but for McGraw, still might be following a mule down a hot, dusty furrow, instead of standing as baseball's greatest pitcher, made no concessions to sentimentality. The McGraw that Hubbell knew was the hard-boiled taskmaster of the dugout; the acid-tongued disciplinarian; and the intolerant genius who would grant grudging approval only at perfection. And it was this McGraw of whom he spoke:

"I wanted to quit a thousand times, but the old man kept after me. He rode me hard, rode me until he pounded into me some of his own fighting spirit. Every time I step on the mound some of his thoughts, some of his tips, come drifting through my head. Not a game goes by but some situation comes up that sends something like this through my head. 'What did the old man teach you to do in this sort of jam? What did he tell you not to do? I'd better not do that. The old man has warned me against it a thousand times.'"

"In the world series last year it was the old man, as much as I who licked the Senators twice. All through those games I was pitching what he had told me to. 'What's true of Hubbell is true of scores of other players throughout the major leagues. McGraw men are scattered all over the earth. And their knowledge, gained at the master's feet, will be passed on from generation to generation, handed down by the endless chain that is veteran-rookie-veteran-rookie. So long as brilliant strategy, breathless daring, and a flaming will to win that recognizes no handicap as insurmountable are part of baseball, so long will McGraw be a part of the game."

It doesn't seem far-fetched to say that there are pitchers not yet born who will win world series without knowing it was McGraw, long dead, who won for them. And that on many a distant afternoon base runners, now children, will gain the roar of the crowd for the execution of a play plotted by the old man in the twilight of Coogan's Bluff, long, long ago.

SPRING TRAINING .. By Art Krenz

BEARS REPORT FOR FOOTBALL: BILL CONFIDENT

BERKELEY, Feb. 27.—"California will have the best attack on the coast next fall," Coach Bill Ingram of the California Bears started spring football at Berkeley today.

"We'll stress offensive play during the spring workouts," Ingram said. "I have changed the attack slightly, but in general the plan will work on will be the same as we used against Stanford in the Big Game. I believe we'll gain plenty of ground this fall, even if we haven't any more speed than we had last season."

Ingram has made a practice of starting the season with rather startling statements, in contrast to his rival mentors, who almost without exception are either most optimistic or pessimistic. Last season Ingram claimed California would have the "most dangerous team on the coast." He wasn't so far wrong, judging from the S. C. and Stanford games, which were as close as could be desired.

California has hopes of adding speed to the team this season, however, although the coaches have only a few hunches as to where it will come from. Probably the outstanding candidates to provide the spark to the backfield is Perry Schwartz, who transferred from Sacramento junior college. His football ability is unknown.

His football ability is unknown, but Ingram says he's fast. He may fit in at either end or halfback.

Ingram declares the new football rules will have no effect on the game this fall. No one ever paid any attention to the rule penalizing a team for the second touchback category doesn't mean much either, Bill opines.

"If a pass is intercepted it is a touchback, unless an opponent runs with it and crosses the goal line," according to Ingram.

Well satisfied with the manner in which his Dons—both regulars and yamigans—defeated Santa Ana high school, 7 to 3, two weeks ago, Player-Coach Ben Koral probably will start off with the same lineup against the Tartars.

Santa Ana's tentative lineup now consists of Koral, catcher; Gordon Mallett, pitcher; Reg Lake or Leo Morse, first base; Joe Koral, second; Bob Wimbush, shortstop; Bill Wilde, third; Dick Clark, Bill McDaniell and Wendell Kenawyer in the outfield.

THAT TERRY AGAIN!

Bill Terry, Giants' boss who has been getting in digs at all National league teams this winter, says that "Chuck" Klein will make the Cubs a pennant contender, but doubts if Chicago pitching staff will hold up.

S. C. NAMES CAPTAIN FRIDAY

Burchard Weds in Santa Ana; Cupid Hits Two Others

MCCARTHY FOOLED SCOTCHMEN

BY AL WESSON

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, Feb. 27.—A few Trojan horse hairs: Southern California's 1934 football captain will be elected at the grid banquet Friday night. . . . The boys are a dinner dance at the University club. . . . Headman Jones will start spring practice Monday, Mar. 12. . . . Same routine, two or three weeks.

Gerard Burchard, Trojan reserve halfback, took the leap Feb. 16 in Santa Ana. . . . His bride is Melji Berkstresser of San Diego. . . . He will finish S. C. and she will continue at San Diego State.

Also of interest to Cupid: Johnny McCarthy expects to sort out married this summer. . . . Cupid won't steal 'em from Dean Cromwell though as they intend to continue school.

Bob McNeish, in his last semester at S. C., will soon be making daily trips to San Bernardino to conduct spring football practice at the junior college where he will coach next fall. . . . Bob's kid brother George, who played center on the Trojans eleven last fall, must have been at one time last season he weighed 165 pounds; now he hits 204. . . . He'll probably weigh about 190 in training and he'll be a hard baby to keep off the varsity.

Johnny McCarthy first found out he had speed in his legs when he ran in a celebration of the Scotch clans in Long Beach in 1923. . . . He and "Tuck" Stainback, the baseballer who goes up to the major leagues this spring, went down from Fairfax high and won the race at the picnic. . . . Johnny, who has been ruled out. . . . He's not a Scotch McC, he's an Irish McC.

SEAL OWNERS CONFIDENT OF TAKING COAST LEAGUE FLAG

(The following is the first of a series the United Press will carry on the Seal owners' fight to keep the league for 1934. This story deals with the San Francisco Seals.—Sport editor's note.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—"Pretty good," said George Alfred Putnam today as he reclined in his deep office chair, one hand holding a roster of the San Francisco Seals, and his eyes traveling to a nearby window where he could see a group of young rookies hustling around Seals stadium.

Putnam, one third of the firm of Graham, Putnam and Strub, Inc., owners of the Seals, referred to the chances he thinks his team has in the Pacific Coast league race of 1934.

Then with a note of emphasis Putnam went even further and predicted that the Seals would finish first; Hollywood second; Los Angeles third, and Portland fourth. He relegated his city rivals, the Mission Reds, to last place. That done, he proceeded to outline why his team should return the precious bunting, symbolic of Coast league supremacy, to Seals stadium.

In the first place, Putnam explained, the Seals have in Jimmy Gibson, Walter Mills, the perennial veteran, Leroy Hermann, big right-hander, and Wynn Balou, formerly of Los Angeles, are

Midget Auto Races To Be Run At Bowl

Sponsored by Santa Ana post No. 131, midget automobile races will be held at the Municipal Bowl as soon as the city council formally approves an agreement tentatively made with the American Legion last night.

The plan is to conduct programs Saturday nights, the first to be held within three weeks. The city will get 10 per cent of gross receipts.

Mayor Paul Witmer appointed a committee composed of Councilmen William Penn and E. G. Warner and City Auditor Lloyd Banks to confer with Legion Commander C. D. Swanner and George Kellogg. The council's group is empowered to act and is committed to give the Legion a contract.

The small cars travel about 40 miles an hour. They will operate on a 25-foot track here, and promoters have guaranteed not to injure the football turf or the baseball field.

CITY'S JUNIOR COURT TOURNEY NEARS FINALS

With champions already established in several sections, the Santa Ana Twenty-Three club's junior court tourney, which began with an entry list of nearly every boy and girl at Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop, was nearing completion today.

The ninth grade girls' winner at Lathrop was Naomi Steele, runner-up honors going to Zanell Morton and third place to Helen Patterson. Roy Rose, Allan Ritter and Joe Ortega remain in the running for the boys' title.

Eighth grade girls' laurels were taken by Dorothy Ross, followed by Melba Lee, Janet Harwood and Barbara Stevenson will play off a tie for third place. Byron Bates, Albert Wright, Bill Reid and Norman Miller qualified for the final round in the boys' tourney.

Delbert Morrison took the seventh grade championship in the girls' division. Next were Alice McFarland, Alene Simmons and Jean Thwait, the latter two to play for third place.

Rapid progress also is being made in deciding divisional champions at Frances Willard where all eleven graders already have finished play. Eleven girls remain in the running for the seventh grade crown, and 22 names are still on the ninth grade list.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX REPORT AT PASADENA

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 27.—(UP)—Baseball got off to an official 1934 start here today when Manager Lew Fonseca of the Chicago White Sox herded an ensemble of his players into Brookside park for the first of the annual spring exercises.

A dozen or so young pitchers composed the advance contingent of Sox which donned uniforms for the first workout. In addition, Fonseca had on hand a trio of ambitious veterans in Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes and "Mule" Haas, former University of Wisconsin outfielder, also was in camp.

CORBETT AGREES TO BOX TERRY MARCH 26

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Articles of agreement were drawn today for a 10-round bout here March 26 between Johnny Corbett III, former welterweight champion, and Young Terry, Trenton, N. J., slugger.

Promoter Johnny Sylvester said that Corbett would receive 40 per cent of the gate and Terry 15 per cent. The articles specified that the men weigh in at 155 pounds.

Thil Beats Ara, Retains World's Middle Sceptre

PARIS, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Marcel Thil, bald-headed, hairy-chested Frenchman still held his claims to the world middleweight championship today after winning an easy 15-round decision over young Ignacio Ara of Spain last night.

More than 14,000 fans in the Palais Des Sports saw the veteran Thil win 10 rounds. The judges declared the other five even, but most boxing writers gave Thil the edge in all of them.

The Frenchman weighed 139 pounds; Ara, 156 3/4.

ADVANCE SALE FOR MIAMI GO DISAPPOINTING

BY STUART CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27.—Huge Primo Carnera is a 5 to 2 favorite to retain his title in tomorrow night's unattractive heavyweight brawl with little Tommy Loughran.

On the eve of this bout, which shapes up as the least compelling in heavy weight championship history, (with the single exception of the Carnera-Uzoudun fight at Rome) everything is all set.

Carnera, the amiable ox-man from Italy who wears the crown that once graced such luminaries as Sullivan, Corbett and Dempsey, has finished preparations for the contest. Likewise his 31-year-old 185-pound opponent from Philadelphia. Both loafed about their camps today.

Carnera to Weigh 158
Handlers claim both athletes have attained "physical perfection," training without cuts, bruising or sprains or ringworm. The vast difference in their weights will be officially emphasized on the scales at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Carnera will register slightly more than one-eighth of a ton, 258 1/2 pounds.

This bout was originally scheduled for last Friday, but it was postponed because of a horse show and a couple of social gatherings, marking a new something or other in pugilistic history. Even now, when the social functions have had their way, natives and visitors alike in this palm-fringed metropolis are as eager for the brawl as a litter of chloroformed kittens.

This apathy is prevalent throughout Adad county, with the exception of one spot. There is considerable suspense in the Flieger street offices of the Madison Square Garden corporation, which is promoting the affair. Whether any blood is spilled in the ring, Garden officials fear that considerable red ink may be splashed afterwards.

Advance Sale Only $26.00
Thus far, the Garden has collected about $26,000, or about one per cent of the money spent to see the Tunney-Dempsey return engagement at Chicago. The gate total between $50,000 and $60,000. Even that oratorical optimist, Matchmaker James Joy Johnston, has ceased talking about one hundred grand. It cost the Garden $25,000 just to reconstruct the fight bowl.

Col. John Red Kilpatrick, president of the Garden, admitted today "the advance sale, frankly, has been disappointing. However, it's beginning to show some real life. A last-minute rush for tickets will put it over."

Roy Latham and Colin McLoughlan, both of Miami, were named as judges by the Miami boxing commission. Leo Shea was selected previously as referee. They are expected to begin officiating at about 10 p. m., Eastern time.

"Y" BASKETBALL

Teams in the Senior Basketball league will enter the third week of play at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7 o'clock.

Montgomery Ward's and the Santa Ana Clippers, each with one defeat in two starts, clash in the first game. Woolen Mills, undefeated leader with two victories, was attempting today to arrange a second game with the Brea Wildcats. It is not certain that Brea will take over the position vacated by "Chick" Fraser, 39.

Fraser died at a sanitarium here yesterday following a lingering illness. Once one of America's leading professionals, he was forced to withdraw from competition several years ago when he was stricken with a rare foot infection that eventually necessitated the removal of his right leg below the knee.

BOWLING ALONG

The largest assemblage of competitive sportmen in the world is the American Bowling Congress which opens at Peoria, March 8 and runs for a month. More than 6000 bowlers are expected to take part.

In bowling as in other sports such as track and golf, increasing skill has resulted in a marked improvement in scores. Back there in 1901 when a Chicago five-man team rolled a score of 2720 the gallery cheered what it believed was the very best keeping there was. But scores have been marching steadily higher.

The first to crack 3000 was the Flor de Knispel team of St. Paul in 1913, with a mark of 3006. Last year at Columbus, O., the winning five-man team, Flag's Opticians of Covington, Ky., rolled 3021. The highest an A. B. C. team ever scored was 3199, made seven years ago by the Tea Shops of Milwaukee.

SOME NOT SO HOT

Last year only three points separated the winners and runners up, a team representing a Columbus undertaker making 3018. But scores ranged from that high figure down to 1423, bowled by a Columbus bank team. The winners scored more than twice as many points as the team that finished last.

SERVICES FOR LAGUNA WOMAN ON THURSDAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 27.—Miss Edith Hounsell, prominent in Laguna Beach club circles for many years, died yesterday at her home, 282 Poplar street, in her 63rd year from an uncommon disease, leukemia. ## CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCIL DENIES RUMOR

ORANGE, Feb. 27.—Denying that if elected to the office of city councilman he would favor the continuance in office of the present chief of police, R. F. Richards, M. E. Riven in a statement today declared that he had made no promises and was under no obligations.

Riven's statement was as follows: "I wish to avail myself of this opportunity to challenge a statement being circulated that if elected to the city council I would favor the continuance in office of chief of police, the present incumbent and that other applicants would not receive due consideration by me. Such statements are absolutely false and without any foundation in fact whatever.

"I have made no commitment to, or had any understanding with, anyone, either expressed or implied, that would obligate me in any way, to support them for any position which it might become within the province of the city council to fill should I be elected to that office.

"Chief Richards told me he was through, and that he did not want the office any longer. Being the public announcement of his resignation is a matter of record, so I do not believe he will be a candidate to succeed himself or serve longer as chief after the expiration of this term. It has never been my policy to show personal favoritism with a public trust and I expect to continue upon that principle. So for my part, I will consider all applicants strictly upon their merits and qualifications for the position."

YOUR GROCER WILL HELP YOU KEEP HEALTHY AND HAPPY

Delicious Cereal Promotes Regular Habits

The right kinds of foods form the very basis of health. You need nourishment for strength and energy. And you need "bulk" to prevent common constipation.

Otherwise, this ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. You can correct it, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds generous "bulk" to your daily menu. Tests show this "bulk" is similar to that found in leafy vegetables.

Inside the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

ALL-BRAN is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

Isn't it safer—and pleasanter—to enjoy this food in place of taking patent medicines?

Two table-spoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into fluffy muffins and breads.

Remember, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is all bran with only necessary flavoring added. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The claim of Christ, being the light of the world is as forceful today as it was 1900 years ago, the speaker said. "It is full of a tremendous significance. If one seeks the proof of his claim, one needs only to look around and see the fruit of His influence. Christ's position in the world has always been unique. No new discoveries in religion have been made since Christ. In religion, Christ is final. There has been no leader to eclipse that statement. His teachings and influence have gone to the ends of the earth."

"All that is the best in the realm of art and literature has been inspired by Christ. He has given us the values of human life."

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

By Verna Ramsey

For twenty-five years Earl Rogers was the most brilliant lawyer on the Pacific Coast. He freed killers and other clients by methods so dramatic and ingenious that whenever he appeared as the defense attorney in a big case the courtroom was always crowded. The amazing career of this famous criminal lawyer is told by Alfred Cohn and Joe Chisholm in "Take the Witness."

When Clarence Darrow was the defendant in a famous trial in Los Angeles he insisted that his defense be entrusted to Rogers. Rogers won an acquittal for Darrow. Acquittal was also the verdict in all but two of the nearly 100 murder trials in which Rogers handled the defense. The two cases which he lost at the very end of his remarkable career in the courts.

Earl Rogers knew his law. He prepared his cases with a thoroughness unmatched by his rivals. However there was more than this to his method. When he took over a witness he would as likely as not preface his questions with a critical examination thereof. Until Rogers introduced the lorgnette nobody had ever thought of it as a courtroom accessory. Neither had any lawyer on the coast dared to wear spats before a jury until Rogers wore them. He was a great actor and he gave a great show.

No more colorful personality ever appeared in the courts. His own life is if possible even more dramatic than any case he ever tried. This account of his life is in no sense a legal treatise. It is written in vivid, popular style, and from the first page to the last is a biography of absorbing interest.

After 19 years in America Louis Adamie, an immigrant, to this country, returned like the typical Son to his home in Croatia, a small province in Yugoslavia. He tells of this in "The Native's Return."

He went as a filial duty expecting to spend only a short time, and forthwith he fell in love with his homeland. Instead of a few days, Louis Adamie spent a year in Yugoslavia. He discovered a world wholly different from the one he had known and a civilization so old that it was still young and vital. There he found the people wearing their native dress as a matter of course, following their ancient customs, living their simple agrarian lives quite uninfluenced by the world around them.

Louis Adamie traveled all through Yugoslavia, seeing the country and the cities with a fresh eye accustomed to the American scene. He listened to the stories of these people who made sagas that had a Homerian ring to them. He found Homer and Mr. Guggenheim, whose foundation had given him a fellowship had become the heroes of a new legend. In Belgrade he had audience with King Alexander, the heavy-handed ruler of Yugoslavia. He found his native soil an almost undiscovered country, its possibilities infinite, its people vital and fresh in a world that is jaded.

To read this delightful and personal record is to fall under the spell of an enthusiasm that is infectious. No other book you will read is like this one in its gaiety and rich color and sense of youthful adventure.

Poland was and still is a country placed at the cross point of many economic and political interests. The territory of the present Republic of Poland is bordered on the east by Russia; Lithuania and East Prussia on the north; Germany on the west and Czechoslovakia and Rumania on the south. Her struggles to obtain independence are told in an interesting manner in "Poland Past and Present" by Stefan Karaski.

The author has told the story of Poland from its early beginning. The first historical Polish ruler, Mieszko I, 960 to 992 whose cautious policy saved Poland from German conquest, was followed by Boleslav the Brave, a man of vast genius and will power. He allied the necessity for western Slavdom to form one great body in order to check the tide of German aggressiveness. Most of Poland's achievements under the rule of that great king were lost during the reign of his successor. Poland's national growth seemed always through the years followed by collapse.

Poland in spite of or because of its sufferings is a nation of geniuses. She has given to the world Chopin and Paderewski in the realm of music; Madame Curie in science; Poniatowski and Kosciuszko in military science. The University in Krakow is the next old

REDLANDS MAN IN ADDRESS AT TRINITY CHURCH

ORANGE, Feb. 27.—"The Call of Christ to Personal Religion" was the subject of an address given by the Rev. William Cowan, dean of the San Bernardino convocation, and rector of the Trinity church in Redlands, at the Trinity Episcopal church last night.

Taking as his text, the words of Christ when He said, "I am the light of the world; He that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have in him the light of life," the Rev. Mr. Cowan stated that Christianity is the only religion that bases its acceptance upon the founder, Jesus Christ.

"The claim of Christ, being the light of the world is as forceful today as it was 1900 years ago," the speaker said. "It is full of a tremendous significance. If one seeks the proof of his claim, one needs only to look around and see the fruit of His influence. Christ's position in the world has always been unique. No new discoveries in religion have been made since Christ. In religion, Christ is final. There has been no leader to eclipse that statement. His teachings and influence have gone to the ends of the earth."

"All that is the best in the realm of art and literature has been inspired by Christ. He has given us the values of human life."

Supper Is Held By Young People

ORANGE, Feb. 27.—A pot luck supper was enjoyed recently by more than 55 young people of the Methodist church young people's choir. Walter Walkup, president of the organization, was the general chairman, with Howard Davis having charge of the tables; the two girls' quartets, the decorations, and Mrs. James Winget, the supper. A yellow color scheme was cleverly carried out in flowers and decorations for the "U" shaped tables.

Following the supper a short rehearsal was held, after which the evening was spent in playing games at the home of their leader, Mrs. George S. Harper on River avenue.

The chorus, composed of young people of high school age or above, is now in its fifth year. At present there is a total enrollment of 65. The organization, rounded by the director, Mrs. Harper, provides a special musical period each Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock in the church service.

CITIES JOIN IN APPROVING SEWER REPAIRS

Formal approval of the new CWA sewer project to repair the joint outfall sewer near the ocean at a cost $52,549 was received from four cities and three sanitation districts at the city council meeting last night.

Santa Ana, as the largest city in the district, sent in the application for CWA funds and needed resolutions of acceptance from Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, La Habra, and the sanitation districts of Buena Park, Garden Grove and Placentia. Fullerton, La Habra, Orange and Anaheim sent letters to the council last night.

O. E. Steward, engineer of the association, announced that the prorata share of expense to the cities would be as follows: Santa Ana, $675.90; Orange, $216.28; Anaheim, $229.81; Fullerton, $229.81; La Habra, $60.08; Placentia and Garden Grove, $37.55; and Buena Park, $15.02.

The outfall sewer line was damaged in the earthquake last year and will be reconstructed on the top half for a distance of more than a mile below the screening plant south of Tanager. The work will cost $35,650 for labor, $7250 for rent of equipment and $6969 for materials. If approved by the CWA and incorporated into the county quota, the work should be finished by May 1.

HIGHLIGHTS IN LIFE OF NEW BELGIAN KING

Just another little boy who wore Eton collars was Leopold, now king of the Belgians, when he was a prince, in the early days of the century. But war came to his native land and at 13 he was in the trenches, a private in the army, under fire of German guns. When the war ended he was a veteran and wore his uniform like one. After the conflict ended, he visited America and one of his greatest thrills was gazing at New York's skyscrapers. And he did not forget to take a good look at the American girls, who clustered around him, describing them as "pretty and interesting," and they put the seal of their approval on him.

Romance came to Leopold in the kitchen of the Swedish royal palace. There he found that the sabala which delighted his palate while on a visit to Stockholm were concocted by the charming Princess Astrid. Love blossomed and they were married in Brussels on Nov. 10, 1926. They have two children, a daughter, 7, and a son, 4. Leopold, democratic like his father, finds great delight in "tinkering" with machinery. He also often has been seen in the locomotive cabs on Belgian trains. Now, at 32, he takes over the great task of ruling a nation, saddened by the death of one of the greatest monarchs of modern times.

ALTERNATES TO U. S. ACADEMIES NAMED

Charles H. Anderson, of Garden Grove, and Dallas F. Haynes, of Riverside, won first and second places respectively in the West Point competitive examination, thereby winning the two appointments as main appointees, as previously announced.

John C. Isham, of Redlands, and Donald Clayton Deane of the same city, were high men in the Annapolis examination.

Air Ventilation Easy In Hudsons And Terraplanes

At this season of the year when the temperature changes come so fast they keep the motorist guessing, the modern ventilating systems on the new cars are proving more than a match for the weather.

On the new Terraplanes and Hudsons there is an unusually complete provision for controlling the air within the car.

In the new models, being displayed at P. and L. Motors, Sixth and Sycamore streets, clever use is made of the vacuum on the outside of the body to provide an exhaust system for the used air inside.

The window is moved horizontally by a simple regulator. Front compartment ventilation is taken care of by a two-piece window which permits the front piece to act either as a wind scoop or a ventilator while the rear section of the window can be raised and lowered in the usual manner.

To cool the lower part of the front compartment, there is a large cowl ventilator.

CITY OFFICIALS INVITED TO FIRST MEETING IN NEW S. A. LEGION QUARTERS ON MARCH 8

Dedication and opening of the new American Legion hall on Birch street between Third and Fourth streets will be held on March 8 and 10, with the city council invited as special guests, it was learned at the city council meeting last night.

Arthur Eklund, adjutant of the local American Legion post, announced that the first meeting of the post in the new quarters would be held on Thursday, March 8, with a banquet preceding the event. City and Legion officials will be guests and a gala program has been arranged.

The formal dedication and laying of the cornerstone will be held Saturday, March 10, with Judge E. J. Marks slated to give the principal address.

The new building is rapidly nearing completion under the supervision of Hall and Honer, general contractors. The former army was damaged in the earthquake last year and federal aid was secured in the rebuilding. It is understood that the new structure will be known as Veterans hall, since commodious quarters have been established for the American Legion, auxiliary, Boy Scouts and other veteran organizations.

STATE HEAD OF D. A. V. AUXILIARY TO VISIT S. A.

Mrs. Irene Pinney of Los Angeles, state commander of the auxiliary of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will be the guest of honor at a joint meeting of Jack Fisher post and auxiliary tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Getty Hall, Santa Ana. It was announced today.

Arrangements for the event are being made by Mrs. David R. Day, commander of the local auxiliary, and Harry S. Pickard, commander of the post.

Following a talk by the national rehabilitation officer, H. Earle Pinney, and greetings from other guests there will be an entertainment and social session followed by refreshments served by the auxiliary.

Commander Pickard particularly invited all veterans to attend who are interested in pending legislation and executive orders affecting veteran pension matters.

PRESIDENT HAS BILLIONS AS ACE IN HOLE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—After Congress goes away and there's no one here to appropriate any more money, Papa Roosevelt still will have a big ace in the hole. Knowing winks and confident grins from those who know what's in the back of P. D.'s mind greet questions as to what will happen after all CWA's 4,000,000 workers are turned loose.

Certain plans are afoot for absorbing those workers. What makes the insiders so confident is that the president has about $4,000,000,000 to draw upon—quite outside the budget estimates.

He hasn't said anything indicating an intention to use it and he probably still thinks it may not be necessary.

But it's a swell nest-egg and his advisers know it will be available if the Roosevelt program requires it.

First, there's about a billion in the treasury derived from profit on the gold reserve resulting from dollar devaluation. That's in addition to the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund—created from the profit—which can be used virtually as the White House desires.

Then—and most important—there's the big sum of three billions that can be raised at any time by using a generally forgotten section of the Thomas amendment. The Federal Reserve banks simply would accept new treasury obligations and give the government credit for that amount on their books.

That device wouldn't mean inflation except as it would increase the national debt. It isn't likely to be used at any time before next fall.

WHY DO CHRONIC AILMENTS YIELD TO NATURAL METHODS?

CHRONIC ailments are due to chronic causes, and so long as the cause exists the ailment must and will. Therefore Natural Methods strike at the cause first, and then at the ailment.

THE health forces, in a sick body, are like the plants that exist in the frozen ground during the winter to burst forth into normal beauty, in the springtime, after the warm Sun and Rain has cleared away the SNOW and ICE.

NATURAL Methods clear away the SNOW and ICE by removing irritating foods from the diet, mucus and toxic poisons from the intestines, they then establish normal elimination, cleanse the blood stream and heal possible ulcers in the digestive tract. This gives your potential health forces a "New birth of freedom" that makes living worth while.

EVERY PAIN IS A PRAYER TO HAVE THESE CAUSES REMOVED.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS CLUBS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD FRATERNAL

Costumes Reminiscent Of Early Days Are To Be Modeled

When Junior Ebbs society and a large group of guests gathered next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the clubhouse for a fashion show, they will see "California Fashions of Yesterday" with an accompanying program, instead of the 1934 spring styles which one might expect to see presented at this time of year.

Invited to be guests of the Juniors for the evening are their husbands and friends, Senior Ebbs society members and their husbands, and members of Orange County Historical society and their wives or husbands.

Mrs. Raymond Terry and her committee have arranged the program. Mrs. Alphonse Pages (Isabel Lopez) of Los Angeles will present a review of California history from the day of the Indian down to the present. Mrs. Edna Mora de Lopez, who with her family came to California in the very early days, was Mrs. Pages' great-grandfather. Mrs. Pages' husband, Alphonse Pages, will sing early California songs on the program.

Several members of the Torba family, descended from Jose Antonio Torba, who at one time included Orange county in his huge ranch, Rancho Santiago de Santa Ana, will model priceless gowns handed down from those days gone by. Miss Viola Velaz, Mrs. Ida Yorra Draper, Mrs. Uvena Yorra Went, Mrs. Rosita Yorra Locke and Miss Carolina Velaz will be in this group.

Intervened with early California history, especially in the vicinity of Los Angeles and Orange county, is the name of William Wolfkill, who arrived here in the 1830's. Two of his great-granddaughters, Miss Marcella Wolfkill of Los Angeles and Mrs. Raymond Terry Jr., Ebbs vice-president, will model.

Mrs. Pages' mother, Mrs. Isabel Lopez, will wear her own wedding gown in the fashion review. Others who have been asked to model dresses representative of periods from 1800 on up to 1918 are Miss Mary Safley, president of Junior Ebbs society, Mrs. Stanley Anderson, Miss Nellie Bales, Mrs. Rolla Hays Jr., Miss Wilma Plavan, Miss Dorothy Forgy, Miss Eleanor Ralston, Miss Eleanor Crookshank, Miss Constance Cruikshank, Mrs. Russell Wilson, Mrs. Lloyd Shearer, Mrs. Ralph Liverspire, Miss Mary Bowyer, Mrs. Glen Kirby, Mrs. Glen Mathis, Miss Boyd Joplin and Mrs. Edmund West.

Fifty Fifty Club Will Hold Supper Dance

Plans for another of their pleasant supper dances at Pacific Coast club, Long Beach, are at present of chief interest to members of Southern California Fifty-Fifty club, who are anticipating the function for Saturday night, March 3.

Members alone will be numbered among those attending, as Fifty-Fifty members reserve only a few of their frequent parties as occasions for inviting guests. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and supper will be served at 11 o'clock. Recollections of similar parties staged in this delightful clubhouse, add to the anticipations of club members as they plan for the function.

Class Takes Part in Birthday Party

U. S. Colby's birthday anniversary was celebrated at a surprise party given in his home, 1019 West Third street, the past week with Mrs. Colby as hostess. Guests were members of the United Brethren Men's class of which Mr. Colby is teacher.

During the evening, the Rev. T. W. Ringland presented a gift to the honor guest on behalf of class members. Bible games were played under direction of the hostess, and Mrs. H. Colby and Mrs. O. C. Dennie, who also had charge of refreshments. Decorated birthday cake was served with coffee. Tiny flags served as favors for the 28 guests present.

Artists Make Decided Appeal on Program For Ebbs Women

Charmed through the two senses of sight and hearing, Ebbs society members yesterday afternoon yielded to enchantment when they entertained as guest artists, Lida Bianchi, soloist; Antonia Morales, dancer, and their gifted accompanist, Mathilda Barsha, in "Songs and Dances of Many Lands."

Future Events
Only a brief interval of the afternoon was given to club business. Mrs. Charles V. Davis, president, making a few announcements including that of the dinner program on March 12 when husbands of club members will be complimented and Mrs. Jack Valley will review important books and discuss world events of current interest. Invitation was extended also to the Junior Ebbs program on Monday night, March 5, when Isabel Lopez Pages will present a "Pageant of Fashion from the Indian to the Present."

With the opening of the entertainment program the audience was transported to a Spanish street scene by the charmingly costumed artists in their first number, "Crus de Mayo" (Manuel Font), a traditional Andalusian "dance song" with Miss Bianchi in harmonious vocal accompaniment to the graceful steps of Miss Morales.

The favorable impression created immediately by each artist increased as the program continued through songs from Hungary, Gypsy dances, Balkan, Russian and Bulgarian folk songs, the Bulgarian "dance song," "Elenka," and "Dance of a Toledo Lace Vendor," to "Early California" with which this memorable program came to a close.

Song Translations
In presenting the folk songs of the different lands, Miss Bianchi prefaced each with a free translation, but had she not done so her facial expression, her beautifully modulated voice, and her skill as an actress, would have made the meaning clear to her audience. In her final group, that of "Early California," she followed the amusing "Nadie Me Kuere" (Old Maid's Song) with the English version instead of translating it in advance.

Emotions which Miss Bianchi expressed vocally, were expressed by her co-artists in the rhythmic figure of the dance, and her grace, vivacity and dramatic power were delightful. Miss Morales showed complete control of every muscle in her slim young body, and seemed to flow from one intricate step to another with an ease that made her work fascinating to watch. Coupled with her knowledge and understanding of the unusual folk and gypsy dances, was a mimetic quality that stamped her as quite as finished an actress as was Miss Bianchi.

Each artist was applauded with enthusiasm, and Miss Bianchi responded with an additional song after her Russian and Rumanian numbers but Miss Morales only returned to bow her pleasure in the audience's appreciation.

Pretty Costumes
Costumes were in harmony with the different groups. One of the loveliest was the white lace gown worn over hoops and with a trailing white lace mantilla, by Miss Morales for the stately "Sevillans" in the modern classic style. Her work was especially good in the character of the little lace vendor, for she was audacious, shy, impudent and dignified, all in such swift succession that it was bewildering—and delightful—to watch.

"Early California" was a pleasing ending to the afternoon, with Miss Bianchi's songs, "Un Pajarito" and "La Golondrina" in addition to "The Old Maid's Song," and her vocal accompaniment to "Chapaneque," a Mexican dance song. Her gown of white taffeta

Sister Hostesses Pay Friendly Honors to Their Niece

Entertaining late last week in the Lawrence Pyle home, 529 South Van Ness avenue, Mrs. Pyle and Mrs. Oscar Kurtz of Orange, made their niece, Mrs. Elmer Denny of Orange, incentive for their pleasant hospitality.

The afternoon was given over to appropriate games in which prizes were won by Miss Lulu Thornberg and Miss Ava Miller. Prominent in decorative details was a large stork standing guard over a pink bassinet, and Mrs. Denny speedily discovered that the bassinet was filled to overflowing with pretty layette gifts which assembled friends had chosen for her.

As the afternoon drew to a close the hostesses served cake and orange ice on linen-spread card tables at which nuptials in the form of little go-carts, had been fashioned by Mrs. Kurtz.

Asked to share the hospitality of the sister hostesses were their niece and honoree, Mrs. Denny, Mrs. Helen Tedford, Mrs. W. H. Erwin, Miss Ann Williams, Mrs. J. E. Bertman, Miss Ava Miller, Miss Florence Miller, Mrs. Jerry Youngs, Mrs. Mabel Nuckols, Miss Lulu Thornberg, Orange; Mrs. Fred L. Schwendener, Tustin; Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger and Mrs. E. E. Patmor, Santa Ana; Mrs. M. E. Spotts and Miss Edna Spotts, Riverside.

ATTRACTIVE FROCK
FEATURES NECKLINE

PATTERN 1592

By ANNE ADAMS

A new neckline of high importance is the main attraction on the modish frock sketched today. It is created by a chic yoke and ends cut in one, and casually tied close to the neck. Adorable sleeves are tucked where joined to the new drop shoulders, and smart diagonal seaming lends added interest to the bodice. The skirt is void of seaming for a very slim effect. It would be loveliest in a printed silk or sheer—and the yoke may be of contrasting material if desired. For a stunning sports model, later in the season, omit the sleeves and use a cotton fabric.

Pattern 1592 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 16 takes 31-2 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Low-Langley Nuptials Held Saturday in Wee Kirk

Details of the wedding in Glendale on Saturday, February 24, of Miss Ruth M. Langley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clifford Langley, 802 Lucy street, and Robert R. Low of Los Angeles, son of Mrs. Ellen Low of Dundee, Scotland, have been eagerly awaited by Santa Ana friends of the popular and vivacious bride.

The rites, occurring at 5 o'clock in the Wee Kirk of the Heather, were of lovely simplicity, but included in the shower of rose petals which is so striking a feature of nuptials in this famous Wee Kirk. The young people repeated their vows before the Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, pastor of Santa Ana Congregational church, in the presence of relatives and a few of the bride's girlhood friends including her co-workers on the staff of Frances Willard Junior High school.

Miss Alice Schroeder was at the organ for the bridal numbers which included in addition to traditional wedding marches, "Annie Laurie," chosen in deference to Mr. Low's Scottish antecedents and education, and the violin solo, "At Dawning," "I Love You Truly," and "Sweetest Story Ever Told," played by Jack Langley, brother of the bride. His wedding to Miss Jane Royce of Hollywood, and occurred in the Wee Kirk almost exactly four years earlier.

For the ceremony, Miss Langley's loveliness was given emphasis by her costume of sheer wool in soft dusk-pink with touches of black. With this she wore a smart black cloth sailor hat banded with dusk pink patent leather, and other dress accessories were observed by a turquoise-set bracelet loaned by her aunt, Mrs. E. J. Miller, and an exquisite lace handkerchief, a family heirloom. She carried a sheaf of Taisman roses with white sweet peas caught in the shower of gauze ribbons, a centerpiece with a gardenia corsage which she donned later for her departure.

Miss Tessie Childers wore a smart maid of honor costume in aqua blue moose crepe with black Baku straw hat, black slippers and gloves, and carried yellow rosebuds encircled with Taisman sweet peas. Fred Olney of Los Angeles served Mr. Low as best man, and ushers were Norbert E. Lents and J. Paul Howard.

An informal reception was held in the church entrance, Mr. and Mrs. Langley joining the young people for the interval. Mrs. Langley wore a brown ensemble costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Low took a speedy departure for San Diego where they plan to spend the month of March. For motoring, Mrs. Low wore a navy blue swaggar suit with white accessories, including the gardenias from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. Low, who was educated in a university of his native Scotland, has been in the United States for the past nine years. His bride has been a member of the Willard school staff since her graduation from University of California at Los Angeles. She is an affiliate of Delta Zeta sorority and is active in Panhellenic society here.

Couple Wedded at Home Ceremony to Live in San Bernardino

A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Mary A. Dunn, 1087 West First street, when her daughter, Miss Ellen Dunn, became the bride of Herbert Heanes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heanes of this city.

Ferns provided a background for large baskets of daffodils, lilies, acacia blooms and bridal wreath. Miss Lorraine Wheeler was at the piano for an appropriate musical interval, playing Lohengrin's Wedding March as a processional.

The bride wore a pretty gown of blue silk crepe with white accessories. Her shower bouquet of sweet peas and orchids was especially lovely. Her sister, Miss Lillian Dunn, as maid of honor, wore pink silk crepe and carried an arm cluster of Belle of Portugal rosebuds. Charles Holmes attended Mr. Heanes as best man.

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of First Methodist church, read the simple ring service.

Refreshments were served at a flower-decked table where places were marked with daintily wrapped packages of wedding cake. The new Mrs. Heanes cut her bride's cake shortly before departing with Mr. Heanes for their new home in San Bernardino.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon

Green Vegetable Salad:
Lettuce
Savory cabbage
Celery hearts
Radishes
Water cress
Mineral oil French dressing
1 hard roll, toasted and spread with
1 square inch soft cheese
Clear tea, no sugar.
Calory total, 205.

If only one portion of salad is needed for luncheon, just take it out of the mass of mixed vegetables, put the rest in the refrigerator (undressed) and have it nice'n' crisp for a dinner salad.

I use an old shallow wooden chopping bowl for mixing these salads. It has been used so long to hold French-fried potatoes that every hole in the wood is sealed. The bowl is rubbed with a clove of garlic to give an elusive flavor, the sliced vegetables put in and dressed just before the salad is served.

I've heard women say to me they just couldn't eat a mineral oil dressing, because—. Try this one and change that opinion, if you are one of the objectors.

In a bowl put 2 tbsps. prepared mustard, 2 tps. sugar, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. paprika, 1 tsp. steak sauce, 1 cup oil, 1-3 cup good vinegar and 1-4 cup tomato catsup. Whip all briskly, having a little chopped ice in the dressing. Stir again just before turning over the salad. Bottle unused dressing.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Baked Apple Dumplings
Maple Sauce

4 apples, grated
2 cups sugar
Butter
Cinnamon.

Biscuit Dough
2 cups flour
4 tps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
4 tbsps. lard

Milk to make a soft dough. Sift ingredients for biscuits, mix with lard, and make into a soft dough with the milk. Turn onto the board and roll thin, like pie crust. Cut into ten squares, divide the grated apple among the ten squares, put a dab of butter and cinnamon on each pie, and a couple of spoonfuls of sugar.

Press the four sides of the square together until the dumpling resembles a four sided mitre. Lift into a deep pan, make a syrup out of remaining sugar, flavor with maple extract, and pour over the dumplings.

Bake in a hot oven about 15 minutes. The apples will be done when the dumplings are. The syrup should measure not less than two cupfuls, and the finished dumplings should be nice'n' gooey.

Each dumpling and its share of syrup bring the calories to a sizeable total: 300 energy type calories.

Wednesday: Lima Beans Paprika and French fried Sweet Potatoes will be two simple recipes you'll want to add to your list. Lima Beans with milk make a perfect growing food for children. Did you know that?

THE TINYMATES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

"Just think! He is a flying fish," said little Doty. "Gee, I wish that he would do some stunts for us away up in the air."

"I'd dearly love to see him swoop right up and do a loop-the-loop. That's quite a risky trick, though, and I'll bet he wouldn't dare."

"Oh, yes, he would," said Nature Nick. "I'll have him prove he's really slick." Then, when the flying fish went by, Nick shouted, "Do some stunts!"

"First, do a nose dive toward the ground and then whirl up and speed around, and go into a loop-the-loop. We want to see it, once."

The fish seemed willing as could be. "Okay! Just keep your eyes on me," he shouted to the Tinies. Then they witnessed quite a show.

Soon Scouty cried, "Give him a hand! I think he has performed just grand." And while they clapped, the fish cried, "Well, goodby; I'll have to go!"

"Well, goodness! What a sight to see. The plane dove right into the sea," cried Goldy. "Why, of course," said Nick. "The flying fish lives there."

"I know why he dove out of sight. 'Twas to prevent an awful plight. If you'll look up, you'll see a big kingfisher in the air."

"Why, sure enough. And, what a bird! I'll bet our flying fish friend heard the flapping of that fellow's wings," said Copsy, with a smile.

"The big kingfisher has a net."

KREG NOTES

A 15-minute broadcast of the "Glorified Hibillies" augmented by the C.B.S. orchestra is programmed for 8:45 tonight on KREG.

"Pete Rivers" is the title of a new comedy presentation to go on the air for the first time on KREG at 8:15 tonight.

Anna Christina, well-known radio star who made a name for herself on a national radio chain, will take the leading role. The story hinges on the humorous adventures of "Pete Rivers" and was produced by King Grayson for the California Broadcasting system.

This feature will be scheduled each Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday on the local station.

A Schubert fantasy, incorporating some of the most beautiful melodies of the more than 600 written by the famous Viennese composer, will be the feature of the Inglewood Park concert, directed by Frederick Stark and broadcast over KHJ from 8 to 9:30 tonight. The guest artist tonight will be Juanita Tennyson, lyric soprano.

WEDNESDAY
Constance Bennett will be interviewed by Louella Parsons, veteran screen writer, on the premiere broadcast of the new series bringing famous motion-picture celebrities to the microphone over a nationwide Columbia network including KHJ at 10:15 a. m. Wednesday.

Dr. Frank Lorimer, of Washington, D. C., who has spent several years in population research, will be the next speaker on the Science Service series to be heard over KHJ at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday. Dr. Lorimer will discuss "Population Trends of American Groups."

Through 10,000 miles of scope, the coronal coronations attending the coronation of Henry Pu Yi as Emperor of Manchukuo will be flashed to National Broadcasting company networks including KPO at 2:15 p. m. Wednesday.

One of the roads on the island of Crete was built about 1600 B. C., but still is good enough for an automobile to run at 50 miles an hour, according to a Michigan professor.

INVESTIGATION L. A. COLUMNIST INTO CRASH OF PLANE STARTED TO S. A. MAYOR

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 27.—(UP)—Two investigations into the cause of the accident that sent a United Airlines plane to destruction, killing eight persons, were underway here today.

One inquiry was launched by the department of commerce. The other was being conducted by United Airlines.

Government officials and executives of the Airline visited the scene of the crash during the day, hiking up the mountainside where last Friday afternoon the plane crashed.

It appeared, however, that the secret of the cause of the mishap was buried in the wreckage of the plane.

The ship fell nose down in the snow-covered wall of a canyon, approximately 20 miles from here, it was badly wrecked. The three crew members and five passengers, as near as could be determined, died instantly.

E. E. Hughes, and E. L. Yuravich, representing the department of commerce, were in charge of the other investigation. After visiting the scene of the crash they reported they had no announcement to make and that no decision regarding the crash had been reached.

It was determined that the plane crashed at 2:26 p. m. last Friday, only 26 minutes after the huge twin-engine ship took off from the local airport for Cheyenne, Wyo., on its regular run.

It was piloted by Lloyd Anderson of Cheyenne, a veteran of United Airlines service.

It was believed that Anderson was seeking an emergency landing place when the plane smashed into the canyon wall. The wheels of the plane were folded back against the plane's body and the throttle was wide open.

Apparently there was no structural defects in the craft.

Only the two pine trees between which the plane landed were hit, indicating it fell almost straight down.

These plans were made last night when the members met at the guild hall where Mrs. Doris Dyckman, Mrs. Harry Wilhelm and Mrs. Helen Thompson were hostesses.

Committees for the dinner to which members of the congregation will be invited, will be comprised from members of the executive board and directors.

Miss Martha Adams was appointed chairman of the ways and means committee following the resignation of Miss Stella Jackson.

Following the business meeting that was presided over by the directress, Miss Kathryn Adams, the program was turned over to Mrs. Harry Horn, program chairman.

Mrs. Leta Smith gave a series of book reviews that deal with the problems of Germany, China, Russia and the United States.

The evening was concluded with the serving of light refreshments.

More than 50,000 communities in the United States are dependent upon the motor bus and truck for transportation.

Paying tribute to his work as city executive and saying he had been reliably informed he was being sensible, and was thus setting a hard example for other mayors, Ed Alsworth in his column, "Along El Camino Real" in The Los Angeles Times today printed the following open letter to Mayor Paul Witmer of Santa Ana:

Dear Mr. Mayor: You are, I understand, conducting yourself in an unbecoming manner in your job as mayor of Santa Ana.

I am reliably informed that you are being sensible.

This, my dear sir, is a grave accusation.

Mayors, you must know, are not supposed to act that way. They are supposed to conduct themselves with dignity and eclat, having one eye on the clock and the other on the voters.

You, I am told, make a habit of mixing with the great unwashed and really trying to understand and remedy the problems of the ordinary citizen.

Every day, say my informants, you can be seen either in your office or at your place of business, with your feet on a desk and your hand in your mouth discussing with the common people their wants and troubles. Then you do something about it. It is unethical enough to listen to these people without actually carrying out their wishes!

I suppose, however, that it is useless to attempt to reason with anyone like you. It wouldn't do any good. You would just go on acting like a human being instead of a mayor. The worst trouble, of course, is the discomfort you are causing mayors in other towns. They try to shush their constituents when the latter tell about you, but it doesn't do any good.

Frankly, you are setting a very disturbing example. I hope you will mend your ways before election time. Nobody would dare run against you otherwise. So where would be the fun?

Anson Weeks and his famous orchestra from the Mark Hopkins hotel in San Francisco will appear at the Rendezvous ball room in Balboa on Sunday, March 3, to present a full program of dance music, it was announced today by Harry B. Tudor, manager.

Weeks will feature specialty entertainment by Frankie Saputo, who sings, among other numbers, "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." He is a former member of the Rendezvous orchestra. Others with Weeks are Bob Crosby, brother of Bing; Kay St. Germain, Peter Fylin and the trio.

Two runaway San Pedro school girls were back at their homes today following a brief period of freedom during which they hitch hiked as far as Laguna Beach on their way to San Diego, where they hoped to get jobs.

The girls, Ruth Rhodes and Helen Holst, both 14, were noticed in the business district of the beach city at 2 a. m. today by Officer H. D. Allanson, who placed them in charge of a police matron when questioning disclosed that they had run away from their homes.

An officer and a matron from San Pedro returned the girls to their homes this morning.

DR. HENRY CHURCHILL KING

Dr. Henry Churchill King, president-emeritus of Oberlin college, and its president for some 25 years, passed away this morning. There are scores in Orange county, and hundreds in Southern California, running into many thousands in the United States, who will feel, in this passing, a very deep and personal loss.

This is due, not only to the fact that Dr. King was the president of their college, and an instructor in its classes for years, but rather to the impress he made, and the influence he had, upon the individual lives of those with whom he came in personal contact. To Dr. King, "life was real, life was earnest, and the grave is not its goal."

It seemed to be his greatest desire to impart to the students, individually and in groups, the highest ambition, the noblest purpose, and the spirit for a devoted life. It was not the regular work, to which he was assigned, or which he assumed, as it appeared in the course of studies in the curriculum, but much rather in the extra work that he did, in the services that he rendered in teaching and in counsel, which by no means were either "required" of the student, or demanded of him, that he served to the greatest extent.

He was a man to whom the material things, which appeal to most men, had little lure. When, on his return from study abroad, he was offered opportunities for a greater position, at more renowned institutions of learning, he turned them aside quietly and unobtrusively and said: "My mission and my responsibility and my joy are in Oberlin." Inconsiderate of personal income, he actually refused increases in salary time and again, desiring to see any such money used rather to advance the opportunities for education to a wider circle of men and women.

We have just been reading the salaries of the men, who are directors in the commercial life of the country, the directors of the moving picture industry, of the tobacco companies, etc., etc. Some of these people received, in a single year, salaries greater than the total income of President King during the entire adult period of his life. And this only illustrates the truth, which he so often endeavored to inculcate, that the worth of a man is never determined by his financial income; that those men who have made the most valuable contributions to the world have been among the poorest, and that many who have collected the most cash from the people, for their own personal ends, have been among the most worthless. The one is busy giving out; the other is busy collecting from.

He was not a man who challenged immediate admiration or elicited great enthusiasm or applause. Diffident to an extreme, over-serious-minded, his power primarily lay in the developing consciousness, of those with whom he associated, of his being a thoroughly trained, broad-minded, conscientious and consecrated life. A man whose actions and relationships were under a constant search-light, we have never, in the years of our acquaintanceship heard the slightest question concerning his sincerity, his devotion, and very infrequently even of the wisdom of his decisions.

He had himself ever completely in charge. His body and mind were harnessed constantly to his service. Lacking an apparent spontaneity, a little over-serious, he seemed never to have learned to play. But his work and worth show how near to a blameless life a man can reach with consecration and a will.

The spirit of Henry Churchill King is working through the thousands of graduates and former students of Oberlin college, and will continue to be reproduced through their children and their grandchildren, to countless generations. He does not die, he will live anew and afresh even by his passing.

MANIFEST GREED

Today the news dispatches carried information concerning the salaries of many prominent men in this country. Let us recite a few of the more noted ones:

Nicholas M. Schenck, movie magnate and president of Loew's, Inc., income of $221,055, in salary and bonus in 1932.

H. W. Warner, president; A. Warner, vice-president; J. L. Warner, vice-president of Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., $250,000 each per year for six years beginning 1932.

Adolph Zukor, president, and Jesse L. Lasky, first vice president of Paramount Pictures corporation, each received $385,614 in 1932.

Charles M. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, received a salary of $250,000 in 1932.

George W. Hill, president of the American Tobacco company, income of $325,607 in 1932, salary and bonus.

These men have received these salaries in the midst of this depression, with millions of people without the necessities of life. Again we are reminded of some statements that the Comptroller of the Currency made to the bankers as they gathered together in Chicago, when he said:

Information gathered from 4836 national banks at the close of business on May 13, 1933, showed that 96.76 per cent of the total depositors in national banks had deposits of under $2500. The survey further showed that the average deposit was $183.17 and that these 96.76 per cent, totaling 21,748,754 depositors, had 26.72 per cent of the total deposits in the national banks as of that date, while 0.18 per cent of depositors, totaling 28,556, had deposits of over $50,000, or 46.29 per cent of the total deposits, which represented an average deposit of $211,820.85. It must be remembered that the deposits of over $50,000 represent deposits of state governments and their subdivisions, as well as the large corporations of the nation.

This will lead some to say a system that will permit this, is a system that is an impossible one. Others will have other conclusions to draw from it. But we wonder sometimes, if in the end, the selfishness and greed of men who have obtained power through one means or another, to accomplish their ends, will not result in some form of such manifest injustice as to cause us to feel that any system is inadequate.

We cannot depend upon systems, by any means, to bring about justice. Men must bring justice to pass if it is coming. The thorough impregnation of the lives of these men with the spirit of justice and square-dealing, and the obligation upon them, as stewards of whatever money comes into their hands, would go far to rectify a great deal of it. This means that there must be a greater emphasis upon the individual virtues of honesty and justice.

Not what one has, but how one has obtained it, should be one of the striking and ever-present questions. To be sure, there is the obligation upon organized society to lay down such rules of action for all men, as shall be the expression of this spirit of justice and square-dealing, and compel those who would violate fundamental rules of justice, to abide by the rules, in spite of their desires.

This is the reason for law in organized society. The law is not for those who would carry on in its spirit, without the statute, but rather for those who would violate it. Just as the patrolmen are for the protection of honest people, so must society protect the weak and the just from the aggrandizement of the unjust and the predatory. And to accomplish this, through the natural orderly processes of government, is the great purpose of our legislatures, our courts and our executives.

A LITTLE DOG SAVED

A little shivering dog cost the city of Blankenburg $258 yesterday. The dog was marooned on a cake of ice on the Delaware river. Firemen and policemen used their facilities and worked at the business of saving the dog. They succeeded. The news of the expense was wired abroad. Reading the news, we are inclined to think of the cost of saving the life of that little dog in terms of food and clothing it might have bought for needy children. Fundamentally it was right, however, for the city of Blankenburg to spend that money exactly as it did. If its policemen and firemen had not responded emotionally to the appeal of that bit of life on the cake of ice they would have been guilty of a callousness quite unsuitable to human beings. Their emotional reactions were tested and because they didn't stop to argue with themselves about the hazards braved as well as cost of saving the bit of life on the ice, the people of that city know that they can have greater confidence in their reliability in other crises. They will go to great lengths to meet greater demands.

Two hundred fifty-eight dollars seems like a lot in cold print, (and one officer immersed in icy water)—all for one little dog. But individuals now and then must give play to their impulsive emotional reactions if they are to keep them in condition to meet prime needs.

Back to the Deluge

Christian Science Monitor

Having streamlined almost everything about the house but the ash can, the stylists may be able to turn their attention to the development of some new and even more startling change in the shape of things. The average family man, driving home from his work in his streamlined automobile, would like to switch his thoughts into channels that are not forever suggestive of the flowing lines of some otherwise prosaic commodity.

Perhaps he had hardly got out of his streamlined bed in the morning before this nemesis of the world of fashion again slapped him in the face as a pair of streamlined sausages appeared on his plate at the breakfast table. Looking about him, he observed that the streamlined perambulator was in its place and that the good housewife's streamlined outfit had lost none of its attractiveness. Headlines in the morning paper announced that his next suit of clothes would adopt the graceful lines of an ocean greyhound.

The new dining room furniture, which the salesman has assured him was the last word in streamlining, displayed its flowing contours to the best of advantage and brought him so fully under the streamline influence that he wondered whether he had better use an overhead stroke in leaving the house or just lie on his back and float out. Even as he crossed the streamlined doormat, his umbrella resisted efforts to open it lest it might sacrifice its jealously guarded streamline effects. But despite all these evidences of a nation gone "modern," he chuckled as he thought the idea went way back to Noah, who streamlined the animals into the ark with full knee action.

Private Munitions Are Encouraged to War

San Bernardino Sun

Liberals and Laborites joined in the English parliament the other day to prohibit the private manufacture and sale of arms, and failed. The house of commons adopted a resolution declaring that though the purpose was noble, the "practical difficulties" were too great. Among these difficulties members mentioned the recent use of marbles and castor oil as munitions in continental countries, and wanted to know whether the reformers would prohibit their production.

Such levity dodges the real issue. So does the argument made on behalf of the government that to stop the private manufacture of arms would "increase unemployment, increase the manufacture of arms by foreign countries, and decrease Britain's own real security." That security, he maintained, depends on having the private munition firms as armament reserves.

Private munition makers, in England and every other industrial country, while serving their own country's military needs, also serve the needs of their potential enemies. In every war there are private firms selling arms to both sides. It is this private business which arms the combatants in such suicidal conflicts as that of Bolivia and Paraguay and then laughs at governmental efforts to stop the fighting. There will be no peace before arms are made a public monopoly, by international agreement.

MARTYRDOM

When Towser gallops here and there
And yelps for very joy,
His antics fill with black despair
A small and envious boy;
For when Bill wants to just run wild
And have no end of fun,
Somebody says, "Come in, now, child,
And get your home work done."

The cat, next after summer night
The neighborhood can roam,
And people think that that's all right,
But Bill must stay at home.
It makes a fellow fairly sick!
Nobody tells a cat,
"Go work at your arithmetic,
You're pretty weak in that."

It's "Bill, go wash your hands and face,
They've not been clean today.
Why can't you settle down some place?
You're always in the way.
Go scrape that street mud from your feet.
Don't sit and scratch your head;
Or, "No, you're not allowed to eat
Before you go to bed."

No wonder crickets like to sing
The summer evenings through;
They never need do anything
That they don't want to do.
But never mind what folks may say,
Bill would be always small;
He'll be a big, strong man some day,
And won't he show 'em all!

PARAGRAPHS

Speaking of Parol's curse, have you noticed the deaths since John Barleycorn's tomb was opened?

A thrifty American is merely one who keeps so busy making it that he hasn't time to spend it.

Mussolini wiped out gangsters, but he didn't have to argue until eleven other men agreed.

Poverty is a blessing only when it makes youngsters mad enough to get out and set the world afire.

"All that I am I owe to my mother," says the great man. Old Dad gets no credit; he merely paid the bills.

THE MOST URGENT NEED IS A WAY TO CONTROL LIQUOR AFTER IT GETS IN THE DRIVER.

Story of a great man: In youth he married a smart girl and let Nature take its course.

Still, if bad men were denied bail, how could they rob a bank to pay their lawyers?

If only you could step on a cigarette when you see it hanging from a tough kid's mouth.

AMERICANISM: Growling about the cost of armament; denouncing officials, when war comes, because they didn't prepare for it.

A New Yorker arrested for begging food died of starvation next morning. It is rumored that gangsters will be arrested, also.

Chapter I: Feels superior to kids whose parents are "furriners." Chapter II: Stands hat in hand to ask one of them for a job.

Today's young people aren't less religious. They merely regard church service as less important than man service.

But Roosevelt's "dangerous powers" rest on the fact that 100 million people are saying: "Attaboy!"

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

COOPERATION OR COMPULSION

Every day we Americans are getting nearer to the point at which we must decide between an unprecedented venture in social cooperation and the surrender of ourselves to a process of compulsion in our economic life.

As a singularly unpolitical politician Mr. Wallace has been indiscreet enough to tell us that we cannot eat our cake and have it. There are two extreme poles of policy to which equally convinced groups are inviting us to go, he says. Each demands the payment of a stiff price in the way of surrendering vested ideas and vested interests. These two extremes are:

(1) Nationalism. If we go to exclusive economic nationalism, we must frankly scale our industrial and agricultural plant down to domestic needs. This will put a crimp in the career of many a Napoleon of business and industry. And it will demand the drastic withdrawal from cultivation of some 50,000,000 acres of relatively good farm land, with a complete revolution in the life, residence, and living standards of a vast army of American farmers.

(2) Internationalism. If we decline to wall ourselves in at the behest of James V. Gerard and Samuel Crothers and turn manfully to the business of rebuilding our world trade to whatever extent the changed production of the world will make possible, we must turn a vigorous tariff corner and encourage imports as well as exports. We cannot, of course, go on selling to the rest of the world unless we buy from the rest of the world. If we do this, it will pinch many a manufacturer with a foreign competition from which he has heretofore been protected. The planners tell us the manufacturer who should be pinched is the inefficient one. But the inefficient manufacturer can hovel quite as loudly as the better man.

Mr. Wallace wants to split the difference by lowering our tariffs only about half as much as would be needed if we went all the way to internationalism and by withdrawing from cultivation only half as many "relatively good acres" as we would have to withdraw if we went all the way to nationalism.

The point it is important for us to realize is that whether we go to nationalism, to internationalism, or split the difference with Mr. Wallace, we are in for profound economic readjustment which can come through only two channels—through a new spirit of cooperation for the common welfare of the nation or through the imposition of policy by compulsion. It is not enough to beat the tom-tom for the old freedom. If the old freedom does not give us a liveable economic order, the masses will turn on its advocates. It will be a tragedy if we surrender to compulsion. We must begin now a crusade for a new spirit of national cooperation for common ends.

LEFT OUT

"Isn't it time you were dressing, Julie?"
"Past the time. I've decided not to go. I'd rather stay home and read my book."

"Now Julie, this will never do. You've got to cultivate the boys and girls' acquaintance. You can't get along moping by yourself. You can dance, . . . you have a pretty dress, there isn't a reason in the world why you shouldn't go. Now, just to please me, how do you think I feel to see you shutting yourself out like this—just to please me, get ready and go."

"What's the use, mother? I'll have to sit there like a dummy. Nobody will ask me to dance. All the other girls have someone to take them, someone to dance with and they exchange partners. Nobody asks me. I just can't sit there like that another time. I can't. Don't ask me to. If you knew—"

Why wasn't this child admitted to the group? Why was she pushed aside and left to herself while others danced and played and sang together? She was highly intelligent, the first in her classes. A good child according to her teachers and her family. What was the trouble? She was out of her class.

Away back in the infant class where Julie displayed a quick and eager mind, the teachers began pushing her ahead. "She's only wasting time here. She can do advanced work so why not let her do it?" and she was promoted rapidly. When her mother urged her to go to the dance and she refused so pathetically, she was thirteen years old and a junior in high school. Her classmates were seventeen, sixteen, and thereabout. They were socially matured as well as physically advanced. To them Julie was an infant and should with the infants sit.

This happens more frequently than it should. Quick eager children stand out among their classmates. They win praise and approval and their proud parents lend themselves to the scheme of quick promotions. It is honorable somehow, to have the youngest child in the graduating class as son or daughter. But the price is high for the child who confers the honor.

If he is a boy he is shut out of the games. He hasn't the speed nor the power the others have. "Out of the way, Infant," and he is pushed aside. Even the cheerleaders won't have him because his voice won't carry. If she is a girl she is left out of the club activities, the dances and the delightful intimacies of the recreation and rest hours. She is an outcast and a stranger within the gates. These children are beset by loneliness, the dread loneliness of the one in the crowd.

In such aloneness there is always an element of shame. "They don't like me. They never invite me. There must be something the matter with me." What a burden to place on the back of childhood. What an unnecessary sorrow. Why not allow the children time to mature physically and socially? There is no hurry. You can't outrun nature. She ordains a long period of infancy for children and turns her face against haste. I broaden the field of education for the bright quick child. Don't speed it along a narrow gauge road. Put quality into the course and give the gifted child a chance.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the "Left Out" department of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

There are 56 licensed gliders and 585 unlicensed gliders in the United States. Licensed glider pilots number 149.

The number of registered motor vehicles dropped from a peak total of 26,545,281 to 23,500,000 from 1931 to 1933 inclusive, nearly 12 per cent.

Ralph DePalma, though he raced 5000 miles in 13 years at Indianapolis, won only one Memorial Day Classic—that of 1915.

More than 30,000,000 head of cattle, calves, hogs and sheep were hauled to market terminals by truck in 1933, a gain of 30 per cent over 1932.

Doctors who use motor-cars in Belgrade are now supplied with special sign exempting them from traffic regulations.
